Flower Height: 8 inches

Spread: 18 inches

Sunlight: ◐ ●

Hardiness Zone: 3b

Other Names: Carpet Bugle

Description:

A slow growing, spreading variety that features round, crinkled gray-green and white variegated foliage; blue flower spikes appear in the spring; lovely fall accent when leaves turn burgundy; excellent performance in garden beds, borders and containers

Ornamental Features

Silver Queen Bugleweed's attractive small crinkled round leaves are grayish green in colour with showy white variegation on a plant with a spreading habit of growth. The foliage often turns burgundy in fall. It features subtle spikes of blue flowers rising above the foliage from mid to late spring.

Landscape Attributes

Silver Queen Bugleweed is a dense herbaceous evergreen perennial with a ground-hugging habit of growth. Its medium texture blends into the garden, but can always be balanced by a couple of finer or coarser plants for an effective composition.

Planting & Growing

Silver Queen Bugleweed will grow to be only 6 inches tall at maturity extending to 8 inches tall with the flowers, with a spread of 18 inches. Its foliage tends to remain low and dense right to the ground. It grows at a slow rate, and under ideal conditions can be expected to live for approximately 10 years. As an evegreen perennial, this plant will typically keep its form and foliage year-round.

This plant does best in partial shade to shade. It does best in average to evenly moist conditions, but will not tolerate standing water. It is not particular as to soil type or pH. It is somewhat tolerant of urban pollution. Consider covering it with a thick layer of mulch in winter to protect it in exposed locations or colder microclimates. This is a selected variety of a species not originally from North America. It can be propagated by division; however, as a cultivated variety, be aware that it may be subject to certain restrictions or prohibitions on propagation.

This plant is not reliably hardy in our region, and certain restrictions may apply; contact the store for more information.
